

5 silly ways to celebrate the holidays

1. Sign off all correspondence in emails, letters or blogs with a Christmas hymn, song, or carol instead of your normal salutation.

2. Put reindeer noses and antlers on everything that moves (your car, your pet, your co-worker...). If you have trouble catching them, be persistent. I'm sure it won't turn out like this: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=u-C0Av5ICYw>
3. Have an ugly Christmas sweater party. Invite all your friends. Make it okay to laugh at questionable fashion. We reward that kind of stuff here...at least through December 10th. ☺ (WaterBrook Multnomah's Ugly Christmas Sweater Contest).
4. Office Max is onto something. Go to this site to "Elf Yourself":
<http://www.elfyourself.com/?gclid=CIu1wt3eyaUCFUdN4Aoda2MvZA>
5. Pull out a picture from a childhood Christmas. Point and laugh at all the silly clothes and hair. Repeat as needed.